DECLINES THE HONOR

Judge Gaynor Will Not Accept the Nomination.

DEEPLY MOVED BY THE FAVOR SHOWN

In a Telegram to M. L. Towns, at Saratoga, the Brooklyn Jurist States His Reasons for Declining to be Candidate for Governor.

RIVERHEAD, N. Y., September 25.—After leaving the bench at 6 o'clock yesterday evening Judge William J. Gaynor sent the following telegram to M. L. Towns, at Saratoga: "I was elected justice of the supreme court last fall in a district comprising nine counties and one-fourth of the population of the state. The office came to me not from those in power but from the people and unsought. I was not able then to see that I was entitled to anything merely for having done what I could as a private citizen, for the honesty, decency and manliness in politics and in government, nor am I able now. "Anyhow I cannot at this time lay down the office I hold. I could disregard the effect upon those dependent on me in the loss of the legal practice I gave up to go on the bench, and again in the loss of my present handsome salary, but I cannot again so soon appeal to the splendid individual integrity and intelligence which stood behind the ballots cast for me last fall. I have said all along, privately and publicly, that I should not become a candidate for governor and the above is my chief reason. As I am without a representative at Saratoga and very busy here I ask you to make this public. I am deeply moved by the favor shown me and never expected it."

THE PORTLAND DOCK IN ASHES.

The Most Disastrous Fire in the History of the Oregon City.

PORTLAND, Ore., September 24.—The most disastrous fire in the history of this city broke out at 4:30 p. m. yesterday in the dock of the Pacific Coast Elevator company, and raged for three hours, destroying property valued at nearly $1,500,000. All day long a heavy wind had been blowing and nine alarms had been turned in. The fire department was scattered about the city, looking after the small fires, when an alarm from the elevator was rung in. The scene of the fire was across the river from the main part of the city and it was not until five minutes before more than one whistle could respond to the general alarm and when the engines arrived the fire was beyond control, and in half an hour from the time it started the docks for half a mile were on fire. Nothing could be done but let the fire burn itself out.

WELCOME TO GRAY GABLES.

Secretary Carlisle Spent Sunday With the President and Mrs. Cleveland.

BEZZARD'S BAY, Mass., September 25.—Secretary of the Treasury, John G. Carlisle, arrived here yesterday afternoon on the light house tender, John D. Rogers, having left New York late Saturday afternoon. Half an hour later President and Mrs. Cleveland welcomed him cordially at Gray Gables. Captain Schley, of the Rogers, accompanied him ashore. After luncheon the party enjoyed an informal chat on the verandah as the day was pleasant and warm. The Rogers will probably remain here until Mr. Carlisle is ready to return, either this afternoon or tomorrow.

MADRID, September 25.—With all the imposing ceremony of the church the Most Reverend Lord Plunkett, archbishop of Dublin, yesterday consecrated the protestant church in this city and also consecrated the Reverend Senor Cabrera as the first protestant bishop of Madrid. It is expected that the election of Senor Cabrera to the bishopric will cause a sensation in the catholic world.

ALL ASHLAND ARMED

The Breckinridge-Livingston Row Stirs up the Natives.

STORY OF THE LATE ALTERCATION.

Colonel's Son, Desha, Saved From an Assassin's Cell by the Quick Movement of His Victim—Glistening Steel Aimed at the Heart.

LEXINGTON, Ky., September 25.—The sensational altercation between Desha Breckinridge and James P. Haney Livingston in the Phoenix hotel Saturday afternoon has been the talk of the city and the whole of the Ashland district today and it is feared that more trouble will follow. Livingston is doing well this morning and the wound in his hand will soon be well. He says that he saved himself from a fatal stab by grabbing the dirk and Breckinridge from being a cold blooded assassin.

The Owens Men Excited.

Livingston was a strong supporter of Owens and one of the latter men said this morning that if Desha Breckinridge and his friends intended to exterminate all the men who worked for Owens, as they seem to want to do, they will have to enlarge their cemetery. "This sort of thing won't do, no matter how sore they are. They may just as well take their medicine."

The fight occurred a few minutes after 5 o'clock.

Livingston was standing at the hotel news and cigar stand reading an afternoon paper when Desha Breckinridge came in and bought a package of cigarettes. Livingston spoke to Desha and extended his hand, saying: "It is all over now; we ought to be friends, shake hands."

Breckinridge, with an angry look on his face, replied: "No, you one-horse scoundrel; I will not take your hand. You profess to be a man's friend and then stab him in the back."

Livingston replied to this saying that he had done nothing of the kind, when Breckinridge called him a "damned liar."

Breckinridge aimed at his heart.

Then Livingston struck at Desha and knocked his glasses off, following this up with a blow on the neck. Desha reached for his hip pocket and instantly flashed in the air the long, bright blade of a dirk.

Both men were as pale as death. Livingston in a moment of desperation grabbed at the glittering blade which Breckinridge had aimed at his heart, and third fingers of Livingston's right hand, cutting the third finger to the bone. The hotel clerk and several bystanders rushed in and seized Breckinridge and at the same instant Matt Lane, a strong Breckinridge man, ran up and said he would take hand in helping Desha. Two witnesses say that Lane also flourished a big knife.

Lane and Judge Kinkhead afterwards had a quarrel on the streets, and the former dealt in the most scathing abuse. Trouble will be certain to follow.

DIFFICULT TO BALANCE.

Trade in Many Branches Improved, in Others at Standstill.

NEW YORK, September 25.—R. G. Dunn & Co's weekly review of the trade conditions says: Plenty of material for encouragement, and also for discouragement, can be found by those who seek that and nothing else. But business men who want to see the situation exactly as it is find accounts so conflicting that it is difficult to strike a balance. In those departments of industry and trade in which the deferred business and the demand for replacement of stocks have not been exhausted, there is obvious improvement, and in some the business is not only larger than last year, but larger than two years ago. In the aggregate, business is about a tenth larger than last year, but still falls about 5 per cent. below a full volume for the season.

CHINA HOLDS TO KOREA.

It is Declared That She Cannot, Dare Not and Will Not Give Her Up.

LONDON, September 25.—The Times publishes a dispatch from Berlin stating that in an interview a member of the Chinese legation in Berlin declared that "China cannot, dare not and will not give up Korea, though the war should last thirty years. Viscount Aoki, the Japanese minister, with whom the Times' correspondent also had an interview, is quoted as saying: "The Japanese cannot go backwards. It is useless to talk about a cessation of hostilities."

SUICIDE CAUSED BY REMORSE.

NEW YORK, September 24.—Owing to remorse at having struck his mother when she rebuked him for disposing of a number of fancy pigeons and spending the money received for them, sixteen-year-old August Wise, of No. 47 Fifteenth street, committed suicide last night by taking a dose of carbolic acid.

JUDGE THURSTON'S FATAL FALL

The Venerable Jurist Falls Down a Flight of Stairs and Breaks His Neck.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., September 25.—Judge Ariel Standish Thurston, of Elmira, N. Y., fell down a stairway at the residence of his grand daughter, Mrs. Jas. Gayley, at West Broadlock yesterday morning and broke his neck. Mr. Thurston was not a sound sleeper, and was in the habit of getting out of bed to read. He was heard to leave his room, presumably for the purpose of selecting a book from the library. At the head of the stairs he tripped and fell to the bottom. The back of his head was bruised and his neck broken. Death was instantaneous. Judge Thurston was eighty-five years of age. His father was an officer in General Washington's army in the revolutionary war. He was a direct lineal descendant of Miles Standish of Plymouth settlers fame. He was a supreme court judge; had resided in Elmira sixty years, had held many positions of trust and was very wealthy.

Bryant was placed in jail, in default of bail, which was paid at $8,000. Public sentiment is unanimously against Bryant.

OPEN WAR IN KENTUCKY.

Additional Arms for the Tax-Payers of Linton and Caseyville Precincts.

PRINCETON, Ky., September 25.—A fresh shipment of fire arms has been made to Union county to arm the tax-payers of Linton and Caseyville precinct who are resisting the collection of the railroad tax. About 200 are now armed with Winchester rifles and dynamite and they are awaiting the arrival of Collector Blackwell and his one hundred armed deputies. Captain Blackwell expected to arrive yesterday, but he will hardly begin his work before Monday. He says that he will collect the tax if it takes military power to do it. The people say that they will resist to the death.

ANOTHER RECORD BROKEN.

The Fastest Time Made in the History of Railroad Running in the South.

RALEIGH, N. C., September 25.—A special train of the Southern line carrying the musical director of a theatrical company which played here last night, made the entire distance between Portsmouth and Raleigh, 180 miles, in three hours and fifteen minutes. The run from Portsmouth to Weldon, 80 miles, was made in eighty minutes; between Henderson and Raleigh, forty-four miles, the run was made in exactly forty minutes. This is said to be the fastest time ever made by a southern train.

STEALS HIS FATHER'S MONEY.

Prominent Real Estate Man of Baltimore Robbed by His Son.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., September 25.—George A. Vernon, a young man of Baltimore, was arrested here at the instance of his father. Vernon's father is a real estate man of Baltimore and it is said that the young embezzled about $1,000 of his father's money. Young Vernon is about 18 years of age. He reached here from Baltimore on the 18th instant and since then he has been a high roller. He has spent most of his time with the demimonde and nearly all of the $1,000 has been dissipated.

MYERS ON THE SCENE

The Criminal Stands Where He Probably Stood Before.

HIS SHOES FITTED TO THE TRACKS.

The Trip From Cincinnati Without Incident—The Story of Brown Allen and the Woman Still Related—Arrest of Ben Allen.

ATLANTA, September 24.—Will Myers, over whom hangs the most conclusive evidence of the murder of Forrest Crowley, has been carried to the scene of the murder, and his shoes fitted in the tracks that were perfect, and as the tracks have remained fresh from the day of the murder, the clue is regarded as another important link to the chain already so strongly entwined about him. Myers arrived in Atlanta yesterday morning at 6 a. m. accompanied by Detective Dolan, of Covington, and Chief Connelly and officers who met them in Chattanooga. The trip was without incident and though for days a current rumor, no effort was made to intercept the train and lynch the prisoner. The young man is still detained at the station house. He still clings to the story of being a tool in the hands of one, Brown Allen, and tells the narrative with remarkable clearness and nerve. He says that Ben Allen is not the Allen in question. The latter, a handsome young man, well dressed with a good bearing, was a stranger until they met at a cigar store, on the corner of Whitehall and Marietta, several days ago. His story of the plot is one that has been worked by professional criminals the world over and is believed to have been framed in Myers' mind by some cheap work of fiction, rather than by an actual experience.

Ben Allen, the gambler and ex-convict, was arrested in Birmingham yesterday and will arrive here today. In the meantime Jones, Drake and Conley are yet retained, however, but few people associate their names, of the first two, at any rate, with the brutal crime.

The detectives are working day and night on the case and the Allen mystery will be probed to a definite basis.

HIGHWAYMEN IN NEW YORK.

The Street Cars Held Up on the Principal Streets and Passengers Robbed.

NEW YORK, September 25.—A gang of highwaymen held up the street cars on the corner of Bank and Hudson streets last evening, and relieved several of the passengers of their watches and chains.

About a dozen members of the gang marched down Hudson street shouting "free" and "police" in the hopes of causing a crowd to gather so that they could ply their profession.

The scheme did not work, and at the corner of Bank and Hudson streets the gang stood in front of an uptown horse car, and while some of the members held the horses' heads the others ran around the sides of the car grabbing watches and pocketbooks. The passengers in the car were terror stricken and made no attempt to defend themselves from the highwaymen. The police succeeded in capturing only one of the gang.

COTTON'S LOWEST FIGURE.

The Staple Making a Record Never Before Reached on Market.

NEW YORK, September 25.—A new low price record was made for cotton yesterday when October contracts sold at 6.27 and further sold off to 6.24. The lowest previous record was in 1892 when March contracts sold at 6.28. In ante-bellum days still lower prices were occasionally current under slaves labor, but never before in the history of the cotton exchange has the price of the staple touched the low figure now current.

RAILROAD OFFICES IN ASHES.

NEW ORLEANS, September 25.—Fire broke out early this morning in the yards of the Queen and Crescent railroad company, and damage to the extent of $20,000 was done. THE PATH OF THE STORM.

Hurricane Sweeps Cuba, and Moves Northward Along the Atlantic Coast.

HAVANA, September 25.—A terrible storm prevails throughout the length and breadth of the island of Cuba. It began last evening and continued with undiminished fury through the night and there are no signs of its abatement. Great damage has been done to property, many houses having been blown down, trees unrooted and fences and outbuildings carried away. So far, however, no loss of life has been reported. The shipping in this harbor has escaped injury.

WASHINGTON, September 25.—The tropical hurricane that is supposed by the weather bureau experts to have devastated the island of Cuba is now attacking the southern coast of Florida and pushing the waters of the Gulf. It is uncertain whether it will pursue its northwestern course or enjoin off the land up the Atlantic in the tracks of the coastwise trading vessels.

The bureau has given timely warning, and any mariner who during the next two or three days heads his vessel towards the south will do so at the risk of both ship and cargo.

This storm is a perfect type of those bred in the tropics during the September and early October seasons. Its velocity is unusual, but this is expected to diminish before the wind reaches the northern latitudes. Last night the storm centre was two hundred miles southeast of Key West, the wind having a velocity of thirty-six miles from the northeast. It moved two hundred miles west last night, and today at the rate of sixteen miles an hour, its average forward movement previously being fourteen miles an hour.

INCREASE IN DRY GOODS TRADE

The Record Being Broken in the Amount of Business Done.

NEW YORK, September 25.—A member of one of the largest dry goods firms in this country said today, in talking with the president of his bank over the general business situation: "We are doing a very large business. In fact, one day last week we broke the record in doing the largest business in the history of the house, and this is saying a good deal."

What is true of that house, in a general way, is true of almost every other house in the same line, and is also true of the houses in nearly every other line of trade.

Further evidence of this picking up of trade was given at the public sale mills, some of which are located in this country, and others in France, Italy, and Germany, and it aggregated 900 pieces, or about 600,000 yards, which brought in round numbers $500,000. The average prices paid being good. It had been expected that the sale would take at least two days, but so brisk was the buying that it was all concluded within the day.

PROTEST AGAINST THE TARIFF.

Distillers Under Bond at 90 Cents Protesting Against the Increased Renewal.

CHICAGO, September 24.—The Distilling and Cattle-feeding company filed protest today at revenue offices both in Chicago and Peoria against the new tariff law's provisions for increased bonds which the distillers are compelled to give to secure the payment of the tax on the spirits bonded before the new law went into effect. Distillers were under bonds to the full amount of the whiskey in the warehouses at 90 cents per gallon. Their renewal was necessary at the rate of $1.00. With the protest new bonds for the whiskey in bond at Chicago were filed by H. H. Taylor, assistant general agent of the Distilling company here. The protest takes the position that when the whiskey was made and put in bond there was an implicit contract with the government at the 90 cents rate.

SENATOR JONES COMMENDED.

Chairman Kinkhead, of the Silver Party, Writes a Complimentary Letter.

MINNAPOLIS, Minn., September 25.—The state central committee of the silver party, through its chairman, J. H. Kinkhead, has written a complimentary letter to Senator John P. Jones, commending his course in leaving the republican party. The letter assures the senator he need not feel called upon to resign the senatorship on the demand of the republican party, and declares that he owes his position to the whole people of Nevada, who irrespective of party, wish him to represent them in the senate.

WHY THE NAME WAS CHANGED

The Explanation for Changing Appomattox Postoffice to the Name "Surrender."

WASHINGTON, September 25.—There has been considerable comment as to the action of the postmaster-general in changing the name of the postoffice at Appomattox court house, Va., to Surrender. The change was made last week, and every one who saw the simple announcement wondered why the change was made. The explanation is that Virginia will still have a postoffice named Appomattox, though not at the famous place where Grant and Lee met. This will hereafter be known as Surrender. The reason for the postoffice department's action is this: The court house at Appomattox Court House, Va., has been moved to the town of Nebraska, about three miles distant. Nebraska will hereafter be known as Appomattox, and its postoffice was so named by an order issued by the postmaster not wishing to have the two towns with similar names, wrote to the postmaster of Appomattox court house asking him to suggest a new name for his postoffice. The matter was laid before the citizens and the name Surrender was selected and forwarded to the postmaster-general. He authorized the change, and it was made.

MARYLAND'S LATE SENSATION.

Baltimore Democratic Politicians Will Support Their Old Opponent.

BALTIMORE, September 25.—The announcement that Mr. John K. Cowen, general counsel for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company, will accept the democratic nomination for congress in the fourth district, now represented by Mr. Isidor Rayner, is the political sensation of the hour here. For more than twenty years Mr. Cowen has been the uncompromising enemy of Senator Gorman and the state and city machines in Maryland. The newspapers during that period have contained dozens of columns of his speeches, delivered during campaigns, in which he denounced in most scathing and vigorous terms the acts of the politicians, especially denouncing Senator Gorman, Mr. Basin, Mr. Quinn and other prominent politicians, and accused them of all sorts of crimes against good government. Time and again he has traversed the state as an independent ally of the republicans, fighting the state democracy, and for years, he has head, front and brains of every independent movement in Baltimore.

One governor finds That Alabama Wants in 1887 Resembled Money.

JACKSON, Miss., September 22.—Governor Stone yesterday received from the governor of Alabama one of the twenty dollar special warrants issued by that state in 1887. It is a much closer resemblance to United States currency than that issued by Mississippi. It is exactly the size of United States currency and the color is precisely the same as green-backs. One of these bills was submitted to United States Attorney General Stansbury who in a long opinion said there was no violation of law in the issue.
